NARBERTH, PA., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1917

PRICE TWO CENTS

THE FIRESIDE

Betty Baxter's Gossip

Reserve Saturday, December 1, for the Suffrage card party.

There is an unclaimed postal card at the Narberth Postoffice addressed to Mr. Frank Murray.

Our local Assemblyman, Fletcher W. Stites, is making a big hit as teacher of the Men's Bible Class in The Little Church on the Hill.

Articles left for the "Baby Table" of "Lovey Mary's Garden" will be on sale at the home of Mrs. T. C. Trotter, 209 Woodside avenue, on Saturday, November 24, from 3 until 9 P. M. Many things suitable for Christmas gifts.

We understand that Miss Mary Gara is a new member of the Kappa Sigma Phi Sorority, and so if the South Siders hear an unduly amount of noise on Thursday evenings they will know that it is only Mary returning from "Frat!"

Mr. Henry C. Howes, Jr., had as his guest over the week-end Mr. Herbert Rossman, of Baltimore, both Mr. Rossman and Mr. Howes are on duty aboard U. S. S. Tacony, S. P. 5. Mr. Howes spent two days in Narberth early in the week, giving him two pleasant visits home.

Old Groucho was on deck Monday morning, when the young ladies were collecting for the Y. M. C. A. Fund at the station. He remarked to one that she "ought to be in school studying her lessons!" She thanked him for the compliment, in view of the fact that she graduated from a leading college for women seven years ago.

One night last week, some of the residents of Narberth had an opportunity of seeing a real live hazing, conducted by one of the well known sororities of this town, namely the Kappa Sigma Phi,—that much the writer found out, and he also found out who the poor victim was, who was fixed up to represent a bum, and the one who "fixed" her certainly must have been an artist, or else had actual experience in the "bumming" trade. The poor little bum was bullied at the home of one of the members of the sorority, and then all the way from Iona avenue to the station, where she was made to wait the arrival of the 11.15 train from Philly and compelled to sell some tickets to procure tobacco for the boys in trenches. But the little bum was a good sport, and did her part, until she espied one of the opposite sex emerging from that 11.15 train (for whose opinion she must have had some concern!) whence she emitted one alarmed cry and fled! The wild creature was captured once again and her keepers returned her, in chains,—the only one in captivity, ladies and gentlemen!—(of her kind) to her Mary's-abode at 404 South Narberth Avenue.

N. B.—This is part of the hazing, you know.

BRIDGE AND "500"

On Saturday, December 1, at 2.30 in the afternoon a card party will be given under the auspices of the Narberth Branch Woman's Suffrage party at the residence of Mr. A. J. Loos, 417 Haverford avenue. Tickets will be fifty cents.

Having taken his politics from his father and his religion from his mother, the average man insists on making his own mistakes.

On Friday, Nov. 30, 1917

there has been arranged a dance for the benefit of the "SOLDIERS AND SAILORS TOBACCO FUND"

This will give all our "Home Town" folks who like to dance an opportunity to enjoy a social evening and help a worthy cause.

Meyer's Orchestra has been engaged and they have assured us good dance music.

In case of death or disability a special receipt must be signed on a form which shall be provided for the purpose. Postmasters shall require ten days notice in writing before making payment.

Patience—Isn't it remarkable how she keeps her age?

Patrice—Yes; she hasn't changed it in ten years.

$12,600 FOR Y. M. C. A. WAR RELIEF FUND

Narberth Contributes Far More Than Was Expected—511 Individual Subscriptions—Money Still Coming In

Narberth has every reason to feel proud of its share in the Y. M. C. A. War Relief Campaign, which closed Monday night. The large amount turned in by the local committee was made possible by the generous subscription of Mr. Percival Roberts, Jr., but how thoroughly the entire community was solicited and how freely it responded is best shown by the number of individual contributions. It must be remembered, too, that many Narberthites found it advisable for business reasons to make their subscriptions in Philadelphia, and we missed a goodly amount because of this.

The credit for the success of the campaign must go largely to the men who gave up their evenings to make a house-to-house canvass, and we do not believe there are many towns in which this work was done more thoroughly—more than 500 subscriptions from a population of a little over 3000. This committee was made up as follows:

W. J. Kirkpatrick
W. S. Crater
Walton Wentz
Jacob K. Lessey
William J. Bailey
Clarence L. Metzger
C. M. McCracken
W. P. Nash
Charles V. Noel

Herbert G. Seymour
J. T. Darlington
W. D. Smedley
William S. Horner
James C. Simpson
Adam H. Wilson
William A. McCulley
Clarence L. Smith
Langdon Odiorne

A. J. Loos
William C. Poor
William J. Peebles
H. L. Philler
J. P. Rowbotham
Eli P. Ewing (Fairview)
A. G. Compton
Edward S. Haws
A. E. Brown

Daniel Leitch
Charles E. Kreamer
H. J. Martin
George M. Colesworthy
Elwood M. Sickles
A. E. Wohlert
William Newberg
P. A. Swartz
Noel Butler

Monday a man told us he was ready to give something to the War Fund, but that nobody called on him. On investigation we found that the canvasser had called three times, and each time there was no one at home. Doubtless there are some we have not seen who would be glad to contribute. The campaign has closed, but the boys in the trenches and in camp can use your assistance to advantage even if it is a day or so late. Any contributions left with Postmaster Haws will have prompt acknowledgment. Checks should be made out to the order of Y. M. C. A. War Relief Fund.

ROY E. CLARK, Local Chairman.

Postmaster Haws and Councilman Wentz made a great team. They were "on the job" practically every night and worked late. Once or twice the committee was about ready to send a search party for them, but they always turned up, and with money, too.

James C. Simpson by Thursday night had received a subscription from every family but one on the street he was working. Determined to have a "clean sheet," he wrote a letter to this one family and wrote it so convincingly that a messenger came back with a contribution.

By Saturday evening Mr. Rowbotham had collected $99, and had covered his territory pretty thoroughly. He did not want to stop at $99, however, promising to get over the hundred mark, and made good on this by turning in $5 more Monday.

Mr. Daniel Leitch, cashier of the bank, not only canvassed a part of Essex avenue, but was on hand every night to take care of the money.

Every penny of the money collected will be used in the war work. All expenses for the campaign were contributed by the local committee.

Mr. Charles Kreamer had an excellent report to make from Forrest avenue. Not the least of Mr. Kreamer's triumphs was a contribution from Jung Sing, the Chinese laundryman.

Chief Noel was "high man" in amount collected.

One of the workers ran into an Italian card game and told his story so well that he came away with the "pot," amounting to $1.65.

No one ever finds Mr. Loos derelict in any good work—he turned in a substantial sum from Haverford avenue.

Mr. Eli P. Ewing, who represented Fairview and Summitt avenue, reported Saturday night with about $150. The committee certainly extended Mr. Ewing the "glad hand" as this was far more than had been estimated would come in from that section.

Miss Clayton's class at school was much interested in doing something for the soldiers and sailors—a contribution came in from them Monday night.

Messrs. Newberg and Darlington made a very thorough canvass of Woodbine avenue. One little girl, who wanted to help, voluntarily gave all she had in her bank. True it was only 35 cents, but there is no telling how much good that 35 cents may do some good American boy "somewhere in France." Another contribution, small intrinsically, but big in the spirit of helpfulness which inspired it came from the little Duer boys on Elwood avenue through Mr. Lessey. Many other stories of how the children helped came to us and we know of several cases where the interest shown by the little folks was responsible for a generous gift from father and mother.

Mr. P. A. Swartz did not get started as early in the week as some of the others, but he brought in a good amount from the south side of Woodside avenue, nevertheless.

Selling Japanese cherry trees is not the only thing Mr. Wohlert does well—he was one of the strong men behind the campaign all the way through.

We don't know whether it was Mr. Compton's smile or Mr. Crater's eloquence, but certain it is that through their joint efforts Conway avenue and Meeting House lane made a very good showing.

The first man Mr. Horner interviewed was in rather a pessimistic mood and could not be induced to see that the War Relief Work merited his support. Did that discourage the debonaire and smiling William S.? It did not. He has been selling automobiles too long to let a little thing like that upset him. Up and down the street he went, coming back with enough cash and checks to more than make up for the shortcomings of the first-mentioned citizen.

Speaking about team work, we unhesitatingly recommend Wilson and Brown, Martin and McCracken, Bailey and Smith. Sounds sort of like a base ball score to read, doesn't it? We don't know how effective they would prove as batteries in an exciting Main Line game, but as batteries to gather funds to make the boys in Uncle Sam's batteries more effective against the Kaiser's batteries, they are highly efficient.

Personal to the Cub—We have a small and very select list of persons who turned us down hard and without any good reason. We would like to turn this coterie over to you that you may pour the vials of your wrath upon them. Understand, it is a very small list—less than a dozen out of several hundred, but the thing that vexes us most is that some of them are people whose business and personal interests are in Narberth and they did not care enough about the Narberth boys who have gone out to fight to give a dollar to help along a proposition the entire aim of which is to give physical comforts and moral help to these boys and the millions of others like them who are in the Nation's service.

Mr. W. D. Smedley not only contributed liberally himself (as did his family), but he brought in some good-sized subscriptions from Wynnewood avenue as well.

Five local organizations contributed—the Needlework Guild, the Fortnightly Club, the Thimble Club, Delta Sigma and the Boy Scouts. The money raised at the station on Monday by the ladies ($55) did not go into our fund—it was credited to Philadelphia as a part of the Women's Main Line Organization.

When we thanked Mr. Poor for his work in the campaign, he told us we were wrong—he should thank us for letting him help in so worthy a cause.

Mr. Colesworthy is a bank man and accustomed to handling money—doubtless that is why so few Iona avenue dollars got away from him.

Windsor avenue made a very creditable showing, thanks to Mr. Philler's efforts.

It was whispered around headquarters that Odiorne was doing all the work in the team of Metzger and Odiorne. We positively know this to be a rank libel, however, because we personally receipted for certain moneys which Mr. Metzger collected himself—and besides he gave us a lot of good advice and helped foot up our columns at closing time.

Not many turned down Mr. McCulley, but one prominent citizen he approached was always too busy to attend to it "just then"—he would later. Makes us think of a story Mr. Bok told at Norristown about the man whom the Lord called on to do some—

EDITORIAL

Thus far there has been more food conversation than food conservation.

The outlook for the completion of work on Haverford avenue by January 1 is now quite encouraging.

Narberth's share in the work of raising money for the Y. M. C. A. War Relief Fund was very creditably done, under the able leadership of Mr. Roy E. Clark. One in seven of our population contributed as a result of the work of the forty collectors, under Mr. Clark's direction. The fine spirit of Mr. Percival Roberts in making his very generous contribution through our committee is highly appreciated by every citizen of the borough.

MADDENING PROFESSIONS

In view of the great increase of insanity during recent years, it is interesting to note the various classes of employment which are, more or less, productive of madness.

A French scientist has recently been investigating this question, and his researches go to show that, apart from the terrible nerve strain of this war, the military and naval professions are the very worst a man can enter if he wishes to go sane to the grave. Out of every 100,000 who enter the Army and Navy 199 become confirmed lunatics.

The liberal professions come in as a good second to the Army and Navy, the list being headed by artists, who are very closely followed by lawyers, and somewhat more distantly by the clergy, doctors of medicine, men of letters, and civil servants. The number of people in these professions who become occupants of lunatic asylums is 177 to each 100,000.

The professional men are run very close by domestic servants and day-laborers, of whom 159 out of each 100,000 are sent to the asylum. There is a big falling-off before we arrive at the next group, which is that of mechanics, only 66 of whom go mad in each 100,000.

And, curious to relate, and contrary to all general belief, the group which is most highly favorable to sanity is that of commercial men, which sends only 42 per 100,000 (or 1 in every 2,380) of its ranks to confinement.

To the Editor of Our Town:

As a resident of Narberth I feel that I should express my opinions as to the town paper. Our Town is just the thing for a community of this kind. It is a very interesting sheet, both for young and old (?) of Narberth. The Fireside, club column and its many other items of interest, are certainly worthy of the hearty support and co-operation of each and every citizen of the "Year 'Round Home Town."

An Ardent Reader.

To the Editor of Our Town:

In trying to express the value of the Y. M. C. A. to the enlisted man, too much cannot be said in appreciation for the assistance and cheer given the man in the service by the "Y." I can truthfully say that if it wasn't for the "Y" there would be thousands of homesick lads, in place of the few that are so now.

The "Y" takes the place of a mother, a father and a kind friend, for there you can find the comfort only found in mother. The assistance and advice that only your father could give you is there, and, it not only treats you as an honored and valuable friend, but no task is ever too great, nor time so precious, but the "Y" attendant won't try to help you. He is always a "very smiling and happy to help you" sort of an individual, who seems to know human nature, and at his finger tips, any information you may desire. So you can well feel why I say too much cannot be said in appreciation by the enlisted man, whether he be sailor, soldier or marine. I have heard time without number, some young chap remark: "What would we do without the 'Y'?" It is as necessary to us as our food." For a man is only as good as the condition he is in, and the "Y" encourages sport of the clean and manly sort which builds up and creates finer feelings. Mothers may well thank the "Y" for its motto is, "Have you written home to mother today?" At their lectures the main topics are the Heavenly Father and what the home folks think of us. Not all their lectures are religious, as now and then a musical show is staged, or a novelty act, or singing. You see it not only cheers us, comforts us, and eases our pain, but acts as our host whenever possible, and that is most all the time. I don't think I could hardly half tell the wonderful deeds done by the "Y" if I were to write a dozen books. All I would like to add for myself is: bless the Y. M. C. A. and the people in back of it.

Interested.

SAVING THE LEAVES

To the Editor of Our Town:

In view of the high price of manure and other fertilizers it seems a pity that the annual crop of leaves is generally burned up in Narberth and throughout the suburbs. If saved and composted in packed piles a valuable fertilizer would result, saving much outlay for commercial kinds. Professor Menger, farm advisor in the Pittsburgh district, estimated that 100 pounds of leaves, as they fell, partly dry, contain sixty per cent. water, nine per cent. nitrogen, two per cent. phosphoric acid, four per cent. potash, and about two per cent. of lime. A ton of leaves will contain eighteen pounds of nitrogen, four pounds phosphorus, eight pounds potash and about forty pounds of lime. The nitrogen, at forty cents a pound, would be worth $7.20 and the potassium at same rate, $3.20, leaving out the value of the phosphorus, lime and organic matter, a ton of leaves, at prevailing prices would be worth $10.40. To conserve its fertility and prepare the leaves for the next spring and the garden they should be composted in piles ten to twenty feet square and four to five feet deep, and tightly compacted.

For several years I have had a circular compost pile, about seven feet in diameter, on which all green stuff, grass clippings, prunings, vegetable tops, etc., are thrown, with a sprinkling of lime from time to time. The fall leaves are used to mulch the rose and flower beds and the residue in spring put on the pile. The latter is screened by privet rose bushes and other plants, with flowers at the base. Last year we took out thirty pallfuls of well-rotted humus, and this year forty pallfuls, with over a third of the pile still left. It is about a foot in depth and cuts like cheese. Part is used on the grass and part on the flower beds. A boxful is kept in the cellar for use in cold frames in spring.

CUB'S WEEKLY LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

Does the thought ever come to you after a walk through the city streets that simply donning a uniform doesn't take a man out of the slacker class? Day after day you see the same bunch of khaki fellows promenade Chestnut street, favoring an admiring populace with the sight of their heroic forms and looking as though they were saying to us, "Just one look ought to satisfy you that the country's safe," and then there are the same old paraders in automobiles who put the army tags on their cars, joy ride from one end of Broad street to the other, time and again, and acting as though they were waiting for the common trash at the crossing to throw bouquets or hand them medals for the valorous deeds they expect to perform when they get down to the actual war business, if they ever do. There'll be a lot of heroes after this war is over, but you won't find the real ones among these swagger stick warriors, I'm thinkin'. Me for the boys in camps, on ships and in the trenches. (What's the matter, Cub, are you jealous because the girls have eyes only for the lads in uniform?—Ed.)

Even the Main Line Fishing Club is feeling the pinch of war. It is customary for its president to give an annual banquet—(usually in some cellar, as the women folk seem to be suspicious of that gang and don't care to have them in the house) but for some reason, probably the H. C. of L., no signs of this year's banquet seem to be visible or audible.

Bill Claghorne swept up his garage—yes, at last—and made a lot of noise about holding a beef steak dinner there for his associate anglers, but, as no odor of beef steak may be detected from that quarter, it's just possible that Bill got cold feet.

Principal Melchior, in referring to his faculty, says: "When I select teachers of arithmetic, I naturally think of figures, hence I assign the thin ones to addition and the stout ones to subtraction."

Lou Hess is selling new horse liniment. Says it cures spavins, ring bones and heaves and makes a good polish for automobiles.

Charley Noel says he has enough of politics and has seen his last campaign. Now, who in the dickens is going to tell us how to vote?

"Strikes me," says Bill Bailey, "that a lot of men are shooting off .22 calibre ideas out of 42 centimeter mouths."

Five big turkey gobblers were stolen from the Belmont track within a week. Inasmuch as nobody in Narberth has enough money to buy a turkey, just be patient until the 29th and then we'll find the culprit.

Narberth has done beautifully by the Y. M. C. A. fund, even some of the local Bolsheviks chipping in. This is a white man's town and don't forget it.

Just Now the Pickin's Good!

The Christmas Cards have arrived—and it's a choice lot they are, unquestionably! Let's hope there's enough to go around, for they do say no more will come along—printers and engravers too busy with other work to give their usual time to holiday affairs! Might just as well have the card question settled now as later—come in while the assortment's at its very best! And few more orders can be taken for those specially printed or engraved cards—at the same modest prices—but such orders must come along double-quick! The time is growing short!

A drug store in the most modern sense of the term

GOOD WORK OF NEEDLEWORK GUILD

The annual meeting of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild was held in the Presbyterian Church Wednesday, November 14. After a luncheon at noon for the directors, the election of officers took place, with the following result:

President—Mrs. R. H. Wallace.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. J. B. Caldwell.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. John Gilroy.
Secretary—Mrs. A. J. Loos.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. A. Perry Redifer.

Treasurer—Mrs. Augustus H. Mueller.
It was voted to send $25 of the War Relief Fund on hand to the Roumanian Relief Fund headquarters in Philadelphia, to buy clothing for Roumanian children.

At 2.30 the public meeting was held, the speaker being Miss Erskine, of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children. She gave a very interesting account of the work of the society, with details of cases assisted by them.

The garments contributed had been arranged for inspection, and were most satisfactory in number and quality. The number sent in at this time 1034. Donated during the year to War Relief and Red Cross, 848. Total for the year 1882 garments, being exactly the same number as contributed by the Guild last year. At the close of the meeting, tea was served, giving members and guests an opportunity to examine the garments and mingle in social intercourse.

SOUTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS

NOTE—Please post in a conspicuous place in your headquarters and call to the attention of all departments.

To all Branches and Auxiliaries: Millions of Surgical Dressings Wanted at Once

Major Grayson-Murphy, American Red Cross, Chief of Commission in France, cables the following:—

"Red Cross standard dressings in millions must be sent over with all possible speed. If this is not done immediately a serious calamity and national disgrace is inevitable."

"The American women who compose the Red Cross should prepare with all the enthusiasm and speed possible the dressings which are going to mean life or death to our own men."

To visualize the great need of surgical dressings one has to reflect that only a few weeks ago two and one-half millions of surgical dressings went down in one ship, and that the cases are numerous where an entire box of dressings is used on one patient.

It is imperative that women of the Red Cross in Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter increase immediately this needed supply of surgical dressings that the front is calling for.

OPPORTUNITY

They do me wrong who say I come no more.

When once I knock and fail to find you in;

For every day I stand outside your door

And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wail not for precious chances passed away;

Weep not for golden ages on the wane;

Each night I burn the records of the day,

At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped;

To banished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;

My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,

But never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, wring not your hand and weep;

I lend my arm to all who say "I can."

No shame-faced outcast ever sank so deep,

But yet might rise and be again a man.

Dost thou behold thy lost youth, all aghast?

Dost reel from righteous retribution's blow?

Then turn from blotted archives of the past

And find the future's pages white as snow.

Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell;

Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;

Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,

Each night a star to guide they feet to heaven.

At a dinner given by a millionaire the host showed his bad taste and lack of manners, as the dinner progressed, by telling his guests what the more expensive dishes had cost. He dwelt especially on the expense of some large and beautiful grapes, each bunch a foot long, each grape bigger than a plum. He told, down to a penny, what he had calculated that the grapes had cost him apiece. The guests looked annoyed. They ate the expensive grapes charily. But one, smiling, held out his plate, and said, "Would you mind cutting me off about a dime's-worth, please?"

Men who say nothing do not necessarily have the wood sawing habit

SCHOOL NOTES

Who Am I?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations,

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal, in the United States alone over $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak. Widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage earners in a year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless.

I am everywhere—in the home, on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush or maim; I give nothing, but take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I am CARELESSNESS!

Realizing the significance of the above lines, our faculty is bending every effort to break up the habit of carelessness in the little things of school life.

This Thursday, November 22, from 2.35 to 3.35, there will be held a round table conference of parents of High School children. No home can afford to miss being represented at this meeting.

There is a general opinion prevalent that parents take more interest in the smaller children; that the elementary problems are of importance, but the High School pupils need less consideration on the part of parents and teachers. This is an erroneous idea.

There cannot be too close a co-operation between parents and pupils of the High School and their faculty. The meeting last week was well attended and the parents asked many questions, the answers to which proved to be a profit to parents.

The boys and girls are happy to have a new assembly song book. Old familiar songs, patriotic selections, hymns and many new songs are contained in this collection called "Songs for All," published by W. H. Wheeler & Co., Philadelphia.

Don't forget the Thanksgiving exercises to be held on Wednesday, November 28, from 8.45 to 10 o'clock. The invitation is extended to everybody, whether they are directly connected with the school or not.

The following schedule has been arranged for the use of the school gymnasium after 2.30. Grade athletics, grades 3-6—Monday, 2.30 to 3.00; Thursday, 2.30 to 3.00, for inter-class games. High School athletics—Girls, Tuesday and Thursday, 3.00 to 4.00; boys, Monday and Wednesday, 3.00 to 4.00.

For the information of parents the principal wishes to announce that the gymnasium will be heated during the winter, adequate heating and ventilating pipes having been provided for, and also that the faculty will carefully guard the physical welfare of the boys and girls as they pass from the Elementary Building to the High School Building for luncheon and assembly.

Jack—Say, boy, your dog bit me on the ankle.

Tom—Well, that is as high as he could reach. You wouldn't expect a little pup like him to bite you on the neck, would you?

thing, but the man couldn't—he was too busy. In after years the man needed Divine help and needed it badly, but the Lord said HE was too busy just then—the man would have to wait a while. And it taught the man a lesson. He was always ready after that to do his share in every good work.

Mr. Lessey, Mr. Nash, Mr. Sickles, Mr. Peebles and Mr. Seymour are all busy men, but they took time, nevertheless, to canvass the streets assigned them, and each did his share in raising $12,600.

Many Narberthites know W. J. Kirkpatrick as a star tennis player only. We have found he is a good canvasser as well, and in witness whereof are ready to submit his record of collections obtained from Chestnut avenue, south side.

Sabine Censore gave the use of his car and his own services as interpreter in helping Mr. Wilson interview some of our Italian friends.

Mr. H. C. Gara's help has been invaluable in planning and carrying out the campaign. Mr. Gara prepared the lists and was on hand every night to assist in a score of ways. His wide acquaintanceship and many years of experience qualified him as an aide-de-camp par excellence.

A SPECIAL CALL TO PRAYER

The Thanksgiving season of 1917, fixed by executive appointment will inevitably be marked by unprecedented solemnity. Services and observances that were customary in days of great national prosperity and world-wide peace would be most inappropriate now. This Thanksgiving season calls us to a special recognition of God's unchanging goodness and at the same time our need to purge our souls of selfishness and hatred and reliance in the power of might. In view of these tremendous realities the pastor and session of the Presbyterian Church call the people of this church to a season of prayer. In addition to the Union meeting on Thanksgiving Day, meetings will be held on Friday, November 30, in the afternoon for women only and in the evening a mass meeting to be addressed by Rev. Daniel H. Martin, of Cynwyd. On the following Sunday a special communion service will be held at 4 P. M.

AMERICA'S GREATEST ASTRONOMER

Of recent years women have come to the front in so many professions that it is not surprising to find that the greatest astronomer in the United States is a member of the fair sex.

Her name is Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Davis, of Washington. For the last twenty-nine years she has been making computations for the Nautical Almanac, published annually by the United States Government.

Unlike any other publication on record, the Nautical Almanac, for use in navigation, is published several years ahead, yet it gives the phase of the sun, moon, and stars for every day of the year, and in some cases for every hour of the day. To-day, from the almanac of 1916 and 1917, one may read the heavens for the next two years. As a consequence of this advance publication the phases must be computed from tables which are based upon former observations. The immense amount of infinitely minute and complicated calculations Mrs. Brown-Davis must make in a year may thus be realized in a general way.

her work America made its own computation of the sun, moon, and stars, but a few years ago an international agreement was entered into among the Great Powers that each country should make a certain portion of the computations and divide them. The division of the work apportioned to America included, with other things, the computation of the occultations of the stars by the moon, and a portion of these occultations have been assigned to Mrs. Brown-Davis. In addition to this work, for the past four years she has been devoting a portion of her time to research work at the observatory.

Mrs. Brown-Davis accomplished a remarkable piece of work some five years ago, when she made an astronomical chart of the heavens as they were in the year 1000. This was made to accompany the gift to Trinity College of a translation of an old saga containing the history of the discovery of America by the Norsemen.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could; some blunders and absurdities crept in—forget them as soon as you can. To-morrow is a new day. You shall begin it well and serenely, and with too high a spirit to be encumbered with your old nonsense.—Emerson.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR AMERICAN FORCES ABROAD

Washington, D. C., October 3, 1917.
To the Public:—

The time is approaching to give thought to bringing Christmas cheer to the American soldiers and sailors abroad.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby the Christmas mail to the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe is to be delivered by Christmas morning. Without the fullest co-operation on the part of the public, it will be impossible to accomplish this result.

The three essential respects in which the public can aid in assuring a happy Christmas at the front are: Mail early, address intelligently, and pack securely. For this reason it is urgently requested that all persons having Christmas mail for the soldiers and sailors and the civilian units attached to the army in Europe, observe closely the following directions:

1. Mails to reach the soldiers in France by Christmas morning must be posted not later than November 15.
2. Every package must bear conspicuously the words "Christmas Mail," the complete address of the person for whom it is intended, and, in the upper left-hand corner, the name and address of the sender.
3. Every parcel must be so packed and wrapped as to admit easy inspection by the postmaster. No parcel will be dispatched to France which has not the postmaster's certificate that it contains no prohibited articles.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS 10,000 STENOGRAPHERS AND TYPEWRITERS AT ONCE

Washington, D. C., October 15, 1917.
—Now that Uncle Sam has the young men of the country in training for military service, he finds that he needs 10,000 typewriter operators and stenographers and typewriters, both men and women, for the departments at Washington. The Civil Service Commission has notified all of its 3000 boards of examiners that they should put forth their best efforts to secure these urgently needed workers. While examinations are now held weekly in 450 cities, the Commission states that arrangements will be made to have an examination held at any accessible place where a small class of applicants can be secured. The entrance salaries range from $1000 to $1200 a year. Promotion is reasonably rapid to those whose services prove satisfactory. No appointments can be made to these or other positions in the Federal classified civil service unless authorized by the Civil Service Commission under the civil service law. Any information to the contrary is unauthorized. This is a splendid opportunity to serve your country. Full information may be secured from the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at the post office in your city.

UNWRAPPED AND UNADDRESSED MAGAZINES PREPAID ONE CENT FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE UNITED STATES EXPEDITIONARY FORCES IN EUROPE

Washington, July 16, 1917.
Order No. 510.
The classification of articles mailable under Section 8 of the Act of August 24, 1912, authorizing the establishment of the parcel post service, is extended so as to include unwrapped and unaddressed copies of magazines intended for soldiers and sailors of the United States Expeditionary Forces in Europe when mailed by others than the publishers, the postage thereon to be prepaid at the rate of one cent a copy regardless of weight. Magazines to be accepted for mailing under this order must have printed in the upper right hand corner of the front cover the following:

Notice to Reader
When you finish reading this magazine place a one-cent stamp on this notice, hand same to any postal employee and it will be placed in the hands of our soldiers or sailors at the front.
No wrapping—no address.
A. S. Burleson,
Postmaster General.

BOOKS WANTED

Do your bit by dropping all of your magazines in at the local Y. M. C. A. so that same may be forwarded to our boys in the Army and Navy. Books are also accepted for Library purposes in the Field.
Several large donations have already been made and we hope to be able to soon send a good size box away.
Do it now.

WAR STAMP TAX ON PARCEL POST MAIL

Upon every parcel or package transported from one point in the United States to another by parcel post, on which the postage amounts to twenty-five cents or more there shall be paid a tax of one cent for each twenty-five cents or fractional part thereof, charge for such transportation to be paid by the consignor. No such parcel or package shall be transported until a stamp or stamps representing the act shall have been affixed thereto. (Act of October 3, 1917, Sec. 807, par. 14.)

XMAS BOXES OF THE SOLDIERS

Don't forget to bring your donations of Jam Jellies and sweets on December 4 to the Community Rooms of the Y. M. C. A. These will be sent to the Camp Meade boys for Christmas. Many are without relatives or friends, and we can cheer them this little bit.

On November 20 the club will meet in the Community Rooms of the Y. M. C. A. at 3 P. M., at which time there will be a regular business meeting which will be dispatched as quickly as possible so that the remainder of the afternoon may be devoted to the study of Parliamentary Law, under the able guidance of Mrs. Etta Haley Osgood, Parliamentarian of the Maine Federations.

"Circulating Library"

A circulating library is to be established within the club for the use of its members. At the end of the year these books will be devoted to some public institution or to the soldiers, as the conditions at that time warrant.

A movement is also afoot to arrange a choral society within the club. All members are invited to participate and further particulars will be given later.

SEVEN POUND LIMIT ON PARCELS TO FRANCE

Parcels of Fourth Class or Domestic Parcel Post matter for and from the American Expeditionary Forces in France, on and after November 1, 1917, will be limited to seven pounds in weight instead of to twenty pounds as heretofore. Owing to the fact that the French Railway Companies, under their agreement with the French Government, restrict the weight of parcel post packages carried by them it becomes necessary to provide for the reduction in the foregoing order, by which the weight limit on a single package is reduced from twenty to seven pounds.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list containing the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
